The air we breathe we know to contain a very large proportion of oxygen.

Oxygen brought in contact with a metal, evolves or emits electricity.

Electricity brought in contact with a muscular fiber causes it to contract.

These facts being industable, we have now the solution as to the, meter or motive power of the heart. The oxygen in the air we breathe coming in contact with the iron in the red corpuscion of the blood emits electricity which coming cles of the blood emits electricity, which coming in contact with the heart causes it to controct, and hence power which expels the blood and sends it tingling through the remotest arteries.
